Investment In America

A million new jobs a year call for at least $17,000 new capital investment per job-seventeen billion dollars per year. And at least another twenty billion dollars a year is needed to maintain the plants and machinery providing the 67 million jobs we now enjoy. Where is the money coming from?

The answer: From the same source of capital that has provided it in the past-savings in the form of retained earnings of business enterprises and the savings of the American people—your savings.

You don't have to own stock in a corporation to be a capitalist—an investor. That's only one way. If you put your savings in a bank or savings and loan institution, or take out life insurance or buy real estate, your money-your savings-is put to work by business and industry to develop jobs, production of goods and services. That's what investment means—putting money to work.

Let's voluntarily and wisely Invest in America: our funds and our faith in our future. We are all capitalists-investors of our savings.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Questioning The Sacred Cow

For years there has been a convenient formula for discussing governmental economy in the United States. It begins with, "Of course, this much of the budget is for defense; you can't cut that -"

Why not?

The presidential budget under two administrations has recommended reduction of the millions to be spent on the Air Force's pet project, the supersonic B-70 jet bomber, now the RS-70 reconnaissance plane. Yet the Senate has just passed a defense appropriation bill of $48,429,000,000, including $491.-000,000 instead of the $171,000,000 recommended by the White House for the RS-70.

At the same time, both the Senate and House of Representatives have added nearly $48,000,00 to the executive budget requests in an effort to compel the Defense Department to maintain the National Guard and Army Reserve at 700,000 men instead of the 642,000 the Pentagon considers sufficient.

Many of the same members of Congress who push these and similar defense appropriations strive mightily to whittle a few hundred thousands out of foreign aid or government services, which are a very small part of the budget compared with defense.

The magazine U.S. News calculates that the Soviet Union, by taking 18.9 percent of its annual national output, spends $45,300,000,000 on defense, foreign aid, atomic energy and space exploration, while the United States, using only 10.1 percent of its product, has $54,700,000,000 for these purposes. It concludes that the Soviet Union is feeling the strain, is falling behind, and that Premier Khrushchev is having to admit defeats in races he started.

Under these conditions there is good reason to agree with Senator Everett Dirksen that, "The time has come to take steps toward economy in the military as well as in other appropriations."

For instance, there are some who label the plan as socialized medicine. They say it would interfere with the practice of medicine, the operation of hospital and the right of patients to choose their own doctor.

These things are not true. It is nonsense to liken the proposed plan to the British system of health services, for instance. The British system has nothing to do with the King-Anderson plan. President Kennedy has not proposed that government general funds pay for services, as in Great Britain.

Washington, June 20 - Another well-known, exuberant and photogenic Kennedy is going abroad - four-year-old Caroline. The apple of the President's eye will accompany her mother to the French Riviera. Ailing former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy has a beach home at the famed resort, and the First Lady and her young daughter will vacation there for several or more weeks - probably in August.

This will be Caroline's first trip outside of the U.S. Her 18month-old brother John, an increasingly hefty and mischievous toddler, will remain at Before going to the Riviera,

Mrs. Kennedy will travel to at least one other foreign country. She will accompany the President on his two-day state visit to Mexico, June 29-30. No decision has yet been made

how far the Soviet was willing to go in cooperating in these peaceful fields. "All they are willing to agree to," explained the NASA chief, 'was for the two countries, perhaps several years from now, to launch individual weather satel. lites on coordinated orbit. Each country would then exchange information gained from these experiments.'

"What do you think of that kind of an agreement?" said

"It's not a very important one," replied Dryden, "There would be no access to their launching ranges and no access to the details of the instrumentation in the satellites. So there would be very little cooperation and very little of value would be gained from what is done."

'In other words," said Senator Clifford Case, R-N.J., "there would be no 'reading out' of the individual satellites.'

"That's correct," replied Dryden. "We urged such an agreement, but they would have none of it. They flatly refused to agree to a 'read out' by use of their satellites. As a result, the agreement that was finally worked out is very limited. But it's the best we could get because the Russians flatly refused to open up their launching ranges or to exchange information on the instruments in their weather and communications satellites. They wouldn't budge on their secrecy." "What about the joint use of tracking stations?" asked Senator Kerr. "The same story," said Dryden, "We found they were not interested in pursuing any effort to exchange tracking facilities. They simply cannot get away from their mania for secrecy, whether it makes sense or not.'

Another thing we have in Summer that many of us miss dreadfully in Winter is theatre, here in the Poconos. Each year, in addition to Pocono Playhouse with its impressive star system, there is another little group or two that organizes here or there around the county and struggles frantically, against all sorts of odds, to achieve a toe hold on popularity. Last year we had a splendid group of talented young people (family men and women mostly, with their infants) at Wind Gap. This year, there are new faces and a new company in a newly converted barn on Cherry Lane.

Mr. Wyckoff Sr., is particularly interested in this new group, for they are all clean cut young people dedicated to bringing plays to this area that are fit for family enjoyment . . . nothing is included in their repertoire that tries to make us believe this is a sick, sick world peopled by a lot of misfits. Thank heaven for this! The plays include Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" (to be repeated tonight and tomorrow) ... that good old classic of comedy, "Charley's Aunt" . . . a Civil War drama based upon Benet's poem, "John Brown's Body," and a few others, equally varied and worthwhile. hope to see "Our Town" tomorrow, because I'm told the cast is terrific . . . and, of course, the play is a touching, sentimental, wonderful bit of Americana.

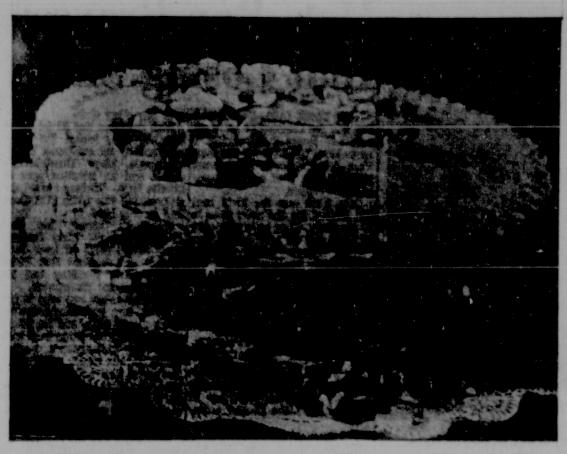

It has sentimental value for me too . . . it was the first Broadway play I ever saw . . . and somehow I expected a wealth of impressive scenery when the curtains parted. When they did, however, I sat there facing the gray brick back-wall of the stage, and was amazed that there was a narrator but absolutely no setting. The acting was splendid . . . Dorothy Maguire, a newcomer, had replaced Martha Scott, who had gone to Hollywood to make a movie; Frank Craven was the Stage Manager whose running commentary was delivered in a droll, wonderful fashion that quite captivated me, and Evelyn Varden, a handsome woman, had one of the principal roles. There was a lad who played the newsboy with whom I talked as he and another little fellow played ball in the areaway outside the stage door. He was Billy Redfield, who is now quite a strapping fellow, starring on Broadway and appearing in many Hitchcock mys-

For Schell

Maximilian Schell has a sure guide in Germany to the ups and downs of his film popularity. "When I appear in something they don't like, they refer to me as a Swiss," he reports, "and when it it something they do like, they call me a German.

The actor, who was born in Switzerland but spends much time in West Germany, visited here after completing his role in 'Judgment at Nuremberg."

Portraying the defense attorney for war criminals was "an act of courage" for Schell. A number of people, he explains, criticized him when he played the same role in the original television of the drama. "Because of that criticism, I was a little hesitant," says Schell. "But I think an actor must stand up for a part he believes in, despite such criticism."

Orange Cereal Flake Loaf, a quick bread that is best served cold.

Most quick breads are best served as soon as they are baked, but breads that are made in loaf pans usually contain cereal flakes, chopped nuts or fruits, and are apt to crumble if sliced hot. So the "loaf" is the one big exception to the "bake and serve hot" rule that is part of the tradition surrounding quick breads. After baking, cool the loaf about 10 minutes in the pan, then turn it out onto a rack and cool completely. Wrap in foil or saran and let stand overnight. Wrapped with extra care, patting out all air, this bread can be frozen, and will keep very well for two or three weeks. And a comforting item it is to have on hand for that quick snack needed before or after a tennis game. In addition to adding color and texture to the bread, corn flakes add to the vitamin B content by providing additional thiamine, niacin and riboflavin.

When we manage to please both partners in a mother-daughter shopping team, we know we really have something. We can see both sides: daughter who wants something slinky and black and the mother who sees her darling daughter in something bouffant and pastel.

Right now the argument is about bathing suits with the younger crowd going in a big way for the bikini-type, and mother dragging her heels all the way. The funny thing is that once they've seen the youngsters in our two-piece suits, everybody's happy. The rather high-cut necklines look modest and pretty to mother, and that bare midriff satisfies the girls. And they do look cute as kittens.

Incidentally, Mother is finding some bathing suits that flatter her, too, draped like a sarong or tailored like a little boys shorts or feminine with all-over white lace ruffles.

So we're cooling off our customers in more ways than one these days: with the air conditioning just right, and a happy comprmoise not only in bathing suits but those summer dresses too: shoestring straps for simple sophistication combined with a youthful prettiness.

Each color represents the section in which the spectator will sit. Each tier in the arena is colored to same average for the 45 additionmatch the stubs. When entering, the spectator just has to spot the color hurriedly and then head for that particular tier.

"Dugout Boxes" Are New Innovation

Included also is a pavilion area which replaces bleachers and dugout boxes enabling fans to see the game at field level. Bleacher seats, which are almost as old as baseball itself, are noticeably absent from the stadium. Instead, O'Malley has conceived what he calls the pavilion area which he thoughtfully has roofed against the sun's rays and has installed something more comfortable than the traditional wooden benches.

Moore Keep Twins At Top

NEW YORK (AP)-Minnesota's relief pitching twosome of Ray responsible for the Twins' second place standing in the American League, point up the importance of bullpen strength.

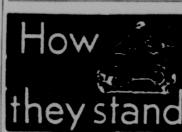

Moore, veteran right-hander, and Stigman, the young southpaw acquired from Cleveland two months ago, have had their hands in 15 of the Twins' 37 victories. Between them, they have been credited with seven victories against only two defeats while saving a total of eight other

Moore has a 4-1 record with five saves while Stigman is 3-1 with three saves. Moore's earned run average is 2.90 and Stigman's 3.52.

While the Twins' duo has been sparkling, a trio of Los Angeles relievers has helped push the Dodgers to the top of the National League standings. The three, Ed Roebuck Ron Perranoski and Larry Sherry, have put together a combined 11-2 mark with 16

We Couldn't Resist Driving Our 1962 GRAN-TURISIMO HAWK

Its been babied for the 685 miles of pleasure we have driven it. This beautiful all white family sports car seats four passengers comfortably in foam rubber bucket seats that recline into a bed. Its four speed floor shift and powerful V-8 engine will cruise you quietly at 70 mph on the turnpike, and still give you 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline. Its cheery, red vinyl interior makes child's play of cleaning up spilled ice cream cones from the children. The console instrument panel before Dad is inspired by the latest aircraft model types. It has a tachometer, and even a second hand movement clock to please precision-minded Dads. Power steering is there for Mom too. Tinted glass, white side walls, and a powerful transistor radio complete your fondest dreams for a sports car that's built for the whole family "at drive it today. It's 1201/2" wheelbase and ful "ill give you the most comfortable cloud-like 1. our life.
